Program Title:

DHS Homeland Security HS-STEM Career Development Grants

Synopsis of Program:

The Department of Homeland Security (DHS) Science and Technology Directorate (S&T) invites proposals from colleges and universities with established homeland security-related science, technology, engineering and mathematics (HS-STEM) curricula in the fields listed below to establish scientific career development awards to students in priority HS-STEM programs of study. DHS intends to establish an HS-STEM Career Development grants program to enable colleges and universities to award scholarships and fellowships to qualified undergraduate and graduate students in HS-STEM disciplines who intend to pursue homeland security professional and scientific careers.

Institutions may submit more than one application from different departments. DHS intends to give preference to institutions included in the existing DHS Centers of Excellence and other DHS S&T affiliated institutions, for a list see (http://www.dhs.gov/xres/programs) because it is both efficient and appropriate to train the next generation of scientists and HS-STEM professionals through research and education programs already funded by DHS to meet its HS-STEM needs.

As part of its mission, DHS S&T is responsible for developing scientific research and technology programs to protect the Nation from terrorist threats and the consequences of natural disasters. DHS S&T is also responsible for supporting United States leadership in science and technology. To ensure homeland security research programs continue into the future, DHS S&T will support grants to qualified undergraduate and graduate students in homeland security-related fields who will use their education and training to become the next generation of scientists and technology leaders. These grants will support the best programs that will train future homeland security-oriented scientists and technologists and ensure their placement in HS-STEM careers.

I. FUNDING OPPORTUNITY DESCRIPTION

One component of the S&T Office of University Programs’ (UP) mission is to create synergies between the homeland security professional and scientific communities, and students at the U.S. colleges and universities that are supporting the DHS mission. DHS is providing funding through this opportunity to institutions with established HS-STEM programs of study to compete for homeland security science, technology, engineering and mathematics (HS-STEM) career development grants. The recipient institutions must use these grants to support their undergraduate and graduate students in HS-STEM fields related to the DHS mission. UP wants to take advantage of the HS-STEM development efforts already made by U.S. colleges and universities, particularly those institutions included in the DHS Centers of Excellence. DHS believes it is both efficient and appropriate to train the next generation of scientists and HS-STEM professionals through research and education programs already funded by DHS.

UP seeks proposals from accredited academic institutions to create HS-STEM career development awards, which are scholarships and fellowships (S&F) for students studying and/conducting research in HS-STEM programs. The proposal/application must address the following area of programs requirements:

- An established HS-STEM research and/or education program

- Establishment of a bona fide HS-STEM career development program and dissemination of scholarship and fellowship awards to HS-STEM undergraduate, graduate, and post-doctoral researchers no later than November 30, 2007 for the spring or winter 2008 term. Awards may be given earlier (e.g., to students matriculating Fall 2007). Note: Scholarships and Fellowships awarded by the recipient institution and funded through these grants must be committed to qualified students for the duration of their tenure, up to two years for an undergraduate scholarship, or up to three years for a graduate fellowship.

- Development of a strategy to ensure that students seek and acquire HS-STEM employment. This strategy must describe the following elements: (1) A means to ensure that the scholar or fellow makes and honors a commitment to provide one year’s service at a DHS-approved STEM venue as a condition of receiving a grant. (2) A plan to ensure that rising juniors and seniors receiving scholarships experience a quality and relevant summer internship at a federal government laboratory supported by a summer stipend from DHS. (3) A plan to ensure that students will have a paid service commitment, not funded by DHS, in a relevant HS-STEM field during or upon completion of their program. The students’ employment must be appropriate for the degree they are pursuing (e.g. Associates, Bachelors, Masters, Doctorate). [Note: The one-year service commitment may be served during or immediately following the term of the scholarship or fellowship. Options for completing this service requirement at a DHS-approved STEM venue include full-time service for: (1) three trimesters, (2) two semesters and a summer session, (3) four summer sessions over consecutive years or (4) one continuous year].

- DHS is particularly interested in developing a well-trained corps of future homeland security scientists who transition into the homeland security scientific and technical community in the public agency, laboratory, university or private sectors.

- Student participation in at least one, and preferably two, DHS-funded 10-12 week topically relevant summer research experience(s) at DHS affiliated facilities, Federal laboratories, and other Federal, State, Local or Tribal agencies. DHS University Programs will not provide financial support for these internships, if they are served sequentially in lieu of a full year’s service commitment.

- Internships and service commitments can be fulfilled at any DHS-approved venue, such as DHS and other federal agencies with HS-STEM missions in homeland security related HS-STEM offices or laboratories, Federal research laboratories and technology development centers, the DHS Centers of Excellence, and state/local/tribal homeland security offices.
• Development of an application and award process that will provide a criteria for fair review and awards of student applications. This process must include review panels for evaluation of student applications that include HS-STEM subject matter expert members to evaluate the applications.

• Development of a career development program evaluation process that includes assessments of student success (e.g., GPAs, number of students supported, degrees received and dates, student research accomplishments; post-award activity and post-graduation placements; student publications, presentations, poster sessions, and/or accomplishment of project milestones, and internship placement and experience).

• Assignment of qualified academic mentors for each recipient of a fellowship or scholarship award.

• Administrative costs for this program including indirect costs are limited to 8% of total direct costs and must be included in the maximum amount allowable under this program ($200,000 and $500,000, respectively).

• Awards may include tuition assistance and stipends but are limited to the maximum provided to recipients of DHS Scholarships and Fellowships. Currently the maximums provided to such recipients are, for undergraduates: tuition plus living stipends of $1,000 per month for 9 months each year for two years plus a $5,000 stipend for a summer internship, and for graduate students: $2,300 per month for 12 months per year for up to three years.

• Criteria for awards must meet DHS minimum standards. Students must:
  - Be U.S. citizens.
  - Have and maintain a cumulative GPA of 3.30 or higher on a 4.00 scale, averaged over all academic terms. Students whose GPA falls below 3.0 in any one semester or quarter will forfeit the balance of their award.
  - Major in priority homeland security related STEM fields (see list of priority fields below).
  - Attend the annual DHS Scholars and Fellows Orientation meeting in Washington, DC (October).

Why is DHS interested in this area of research and education?

As part of its mission, DHS/S&T is responsible for developing scientific research and technology programs to protect the Nation from terrorist threats and the consequences of natural disasters. DHS/S&T is also responsible for supporting United States leadership in science and technology. To ensure homeland security research programs continue into the future, UP supports qualified undergraduate and graduate students in homeland security-related fields who will use their education and training to become the next generation of scientists and technology leaders.

What specific education and research areas are of interest to DHS?

Institutional award recipients will be responsible for establishing career development programs to educate students in areas related to DHS S&T’s areas of specialization. Applications should describe the institution’s existing programs in relevant social, biological or physical sciences, mathematics, and engineering in support of the following homeland security topics [The corresponding DHS S&T divisions are shown in brackets]:

- Maritime Domain Awareness and Coastal and Port Security (e.g. technologies and tools to secure national maritime borders and U.S. maritime interests, support global maritime awareness, defend maritime commerce and global supply chains, minimize damage and expedite recovery from attacks or catastrophic events impacting maritime interests, and protect coastal population centers) [Borders-Maritime]

- Infrastructure Protection and Geophysical Applications to Natural Disasters (e.g., assessment of relative threats and vulnerabilities of critical infrastructure; estimation of consequences of natural disasters or terrorist attacks to critical infrastructure; application of engineering technologies or tools to enhance DHS’ ability to prepare for, predict, and minimize or prevent damage to critical infrastructure from natural hazards) [Infrastructure-Geophysical]

- Emergency Preparedness and Response (e.g. decision support tools to aid in the preparation or response to catastrophic events; studies of public risk communication; training of first-responders to enhance capability to respond to mass casualty events) [Infrastructure-Geophysical]

- Communications, Operations and Interoperability (e.g., interoperable communication for emergency responders; cyber security; ) [Command, Control and Interoperability]
• Advanced Data Analysis and Visualization (e.g., information extraction, knowledge management, and visualization of large quantities of data to enhance data fusion, situational awareness, and threat detection [Command, Control and Interoperability])

• Homeland Security STEM Survey courses: (e.g. undergraduate and introductory graduate courses on applied homeland security STEM topics that would provide an introduction into the above specialized areas [cross-cutting])

DHS plans to award multiple grants from across these categories to ensure a balanced HS-STEM portfolio.

CERTIFICATION REGARDING DRUG-FREE WORKPLACE REQUIREMENTS

This certification is required by the regulations implementing Sections 5151-5160 of the Drug-Free Workplace Act of 1988 (P.L. 100-690, Title V, Subtitle D; 41 U.S.C. 701 et seq.).

1. By signing and/or submitting this application for a grant or cooperative agreement, the awardee is providing the certification set out below.

2. The certification set out below is a material representation of fact upon which reliance is placed when the agency awards the grant or cooperative agreement. If it is later determined that the awardee knowingly rendered a false certification, or otherwise violates the requirements of the Drug-Free Workplace Act, the agency, in addition to any other remedies available to the Federal government, may take action authorized under the Drug-Free Workplace Act.

3. For awardees other than individuals, Alternate I applies.

4. For awardees who are individuals, Alternate II applies.

5. Workplaces under grants or cooperative agreements, for awardees other than individuals, need not be identified on the certification. If known, they may be identified in the assistance agreement application. If the awardee does not identify the workplaces at the time of application, or upon award, if there is no application, the awardee must keep the identity of the workplace(s) on file in its office and make the information available for Federal inspection. Failure to identify all known workplaces constitutes a violation of the awardee's drug-free workplace requirements.

6. Workplace identifications must include the actual address of buildings (or parts of buildings) or other sites where work under the assistance agreement takes place. Categorical descriptions may be used (e.g., all vehicles of a mass transit authority or State highway department while in operation, State employees in each local unemployment office, performers in concert halls or radio studios).

7. If the workplace identified to the agency changes during the performance of the assistance agreement, the awardee shall inform the agency of the change(s), if it previously identified the workplaces in question (see paragraph five).

8. Definitions of terms in the Nonprocurement Suspension and Debarment common rule and Drug-Free Workplace common rule apply to this certification. Awardees’ attention is called, in particular, to the following definitions from these rules:

Controlled substance means a controlled substance in Schedules I through V of the Controlled Substances Act (21 U.S.C. 812) and as further defined by regulation (21 CFR 1308.11 through 1308.15);

Conviction means a finding of guilt (including a plea of nolo contendere) or imposition of sentence, or both, by any judicial body charged with the responsibility to determine violations of the Federal or State criminal drug statutes;

Criminal drug statute means a Federal or non-Federal criminal statute involving the manufacture, distribution, dispensing, use, or possession of any controlled substance;

Employee means the employee of a awardee directly engaged in the performance of work under a grant or cooperative agreement, including: (i) All direct charge employees; (ii) All indirect charge employees unless their impact or involvement is insignificant to the performance of the grant or cooperative agreement; and, (iii) Temporary personnel and consultants who are directly engaged in the performance of work under the grant or cooperative agreement and who are on the awardee's payroll. This definition does not include workers not on the payroll of the awardee (e.g., volunteers, even if used to meet a matching requirement; consultants or independent contractors not on the awardee's payroll; employees of subrecipients or subcontractors in covered workplaces).

Certification Regarding Drug-Free Workplace Requirements

Alternate I. (Awardees Other Than Individuals)

A. The awardee certifies that it will or will continue to provide a drug-free workplace by:

   b. Establishing an ongoing drug-free awareness program to inform employees about –

      1. The dangers of drug abuse in the workplace;
      2. The awardee's policy of maintaining a drug-free workplace;
      3. Any available drug counseling, rehabilitation, and employee assistance programs; and
      4. The penalties that may be imposed upon employees for drug abuse violations occurring in the workplace;

   c. Making it a requirement that each employee to be engaged in the performance of the grant or cooperative agreement be given a copy of the statement required by paragraph (a);

   d. Notifying the employee in the statement required by paragraph (a) that, as a condition of employment under the grant or cooperative agreement, the employee will --

      1. Abide by the terms of the statement; and
      2. Notify the employer in writing of his or her conviction for a violation of a criminal drug statute occurring in the workplace no later than five calendar days after such conviction;

   e. Notifying the agency in writing, within ten calendar days after receiving notice under paragraph (d)(2) from an employee or otherwise receiving actual notice of such conviction. Employers of convicted employees must provide notice, including position title, to every grant officer or other designee on whose grant or cooperative agreement activity the convicted employee was working, unless the Federal agency has designated a central point for the receipt of such notices. Notice shall include the identification number(s) of each affected grant or cooperative agreement;

   f. Taking one of the following actions, within 30 calendar days of receiving notice under paragraph (d)(2), with respect to any employee who is so convicted --

      1. Taking appropriate personnel action against such an employee, up to and including termination, consistent with the requirements of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973, as amended; or

3. Making a good faith effort to continue to maintain a drug-free workplace through implementation of paragraphs (a), (b), (c), (d), (e) and (f).

b. If convicted of a criminal drug offense resulting from a violation occurring during the conduct of any grant or cooperative agreement activity, he or she will report the conviction, in writing, within 10 calendar days of the conviction, to every grant officer or other designee, unless the Federal agency designates a central point for the receipt of such notices. When notice is made to such a central point, it shall include the identification number(s) of each affected grant or cooperative agreement.
